2. FORWARD INCOME CURVE (as constructed Aug 2026)

True burn = N1,100,000 declared + ~N150,000 trading costs = N1,250,000/month

Period	Odion	Abuja rent	Lokoja rent	Gross	Surplus
Aug 2026	1,500,000	83,333	8,333	1,591,666	341,666
Sept-Nov 2026	1,950,000	83,333	8,333	2,041,666	791,666
Dec 26 - Mar 27 (vacancy)	1,950,000	0	8,333	1,958,333	708,333 less capex
Apr 2027 onward	1,950,000	333,333	8,333	2,291,666	1,041,666

Portfolio income alone cannot fund the relocation. Active income is the load-bearing pillar.

Trading burn (verified): $58/month recurring (Bookmap + TradersConnect) plus annual TradingView and Tradezella. Prop-firm accounts purchased Nov 2025, still in use; no repeat challenge-fee spend. Discipline confirmed.

3. ODION COOPERATIVE - DUE DILIGENCE RECORD

Business model: Private money lending. Lends at 12%/month, pays investors 3%/month. Gross spread 9pp/month. Loans collateralised at equivalent value or higher.

Structure: CAC-registered cooperative society. Founder was the user's late father's lawyer and close friend; relationship since 2010. User's father originated the concept (from The Richest Man in Babylon); user supplied the book. Father died 2021. CONFIRMED SEP 2026: the founder and the custodian of the father's C of O are the same man.

Track record: Invested since 2023. Zero missed or late payments. During one business challenge (a N250m government-contract default) the founder paid investors from personal funds. Principal has been withdrawn and received. A separate investor exited fully. Collateral has been seized and liquidated at N20-25m ABOVE book value in the two cases known. Founder has returned capital to some investors to deliberately reduce AUM.

Documentation: Written, signed, one-year agreement, renewed annually. Two-month withdrawal notice. Exit clause present.

BOARD VERDICT: NOT A PONZI. Spread is mechanically explained, lending is collateralised, redemptions are tested, third-party exit precedent exists, and the operator is voluntarily shrinking AUM (Ponzis expand - they never contract).

Residual risks:

1. KEY-MAN RISK - dominant. One individual, no board, no succession, no key-man insurance.

2. The out-of-pocket rescue proves that under stress investor returns were NOT covered by operations. N250m shortfall absorbed personally.
3. Correlated default. 12%/month borrowers are credit-excluded by definition. Nigerian collateral enforcement is slow and subject to forced-sale haircuts.
4. Reinvestment/capacity risk. The founder is shrinking AUM; the capital may be returned involuntarily, taking household income to zero.
5. Position sizing. No maximum total position size existed on the investing side.

4. ESTATE & TITLE - CRITICAL DEFECT

Both inherited apartments derive from the late father's estate. Father died INTESTATE January 2021. Letters of Administration HAVE been obtained, in the names of the subject, two siblings and an uncle as guardian. Four 2-bed units were divided among four siblings by a written sibling agreement (lawyer-drafted, witnessed) in 2023.

A sibling agreement is not a legal transfer of title. Required chain: Letters of Administration (obtained) -> Deed of Assignment / Deed of Family Partition -> stamping (1.5% stamp duty, FIRS) -> Governor's / Minister's Consent under the Land Use Act -> registration at the land registry. Timeline 3-12 months; perfection costs commonly add 10-20% of value.

Consequences while unperfected: cannot be sold cleanly; cannot be used as collateral; will not satisfy immigration proof-of-funds; the claim is contestable if a sibling dies; an unperfected interest loses to a registered interest in court.

C of O context (added Sep 2026): the original sits with the father's lawyer. This was a deliberate joint family decision taken in 2021 when the circumstances of the father's death were unresolved and the family had reason to fear for their own safety. Recovery is on request. The board's earlier framing of this as negligence was wrong and is withdrawn.

Immediate exposure: renovation capex is scheduled for a property not yet legally owned on paper, and FCTA's demonstrated enforcement lever against unapproved commercial use of residential property is TITLE REVOCATION.
